Text on separate lines with a stroke weight that exceeds leading ends up being overlapped by the stroke of the line that follows.

Miter joints create awful spikes that get increasingly worse as the weight of the stroke increases.

Changing any paramater of an individual glyph always Makes its stroke decorre ate itself from the stroke applied to the text surrounding it.

[illegible]